

HEUKING Patent Summer School 2019

Patent Litigation in The Netherlands

Invitation

In September 2014, Ricardo joined Vondst as partner. Before Vondst, Ricardo headed the patent litigation practice of a large Dutch law firm, where he worked for more than thirteen years.

Ricardo specializes in intellectual property law, in which he mainly litigates (cross border) patent and knowhow disputes and disputes regarding life sciences and medical devices. Ricardo also litigates on patents in the field of mechanical engineering, electronics and chemistry.

International guides recommend Ricardo as 'leading individual'. Ricardo received the Client Choice Award in 2017, where it was noted: "he can design novel litigation strategies to help clients reach their commercial goals", "he is not afraid to clearly recommend which route to take" and "the quality of his work is high and he provides excellent value for money".

At the University of Groningen, Ricardo gives guest lectures on international patent litigation and international private law (international procedural law and applicable law).
